

Hotel Booking Management System

- Book A Room

Name:

Book A Room

Description:

This use case covers the changing of a room status to booked.

Actors:

Staff

Triggers:

The use case is triggered by the contact with a customer who want to book a room in this hotel.

Preconditions:

The room's status must be empty in the system.

Postconditions:

After the use case is complete, the status of one room will be updated to booked.

Courses of events:

Basic course of events:

1. The user select a date and perform the display all available room status function

2. The system display the room status of the selected day
3. The user select an empty room that the customer request
4. The system display a window with the room status, room number and room price
5. The user click “confirm to book”
6. The system refresh the screen and show the updated rooms list

Alternate course of events:

None

Exception course of events:

1. The user select a date and perform the display all available room status function
2. The system display that there is no room available at the date which the customer has requested.

Extension Points:

Cancel A Booking

Inclusions:

Display All Room Status